COMPANY PROFILE

Our history

STIR is a family business that has been involved in the production and distribution of plastic materials for three generations.

In the early 70s Michele Damato, the founder, sensed the imminent development of the plastics sector and thus decided to start a PVC Compounds production company.

Thus, in 1973, STIR S.p.A. which became within a few years the largest company in Southern Italy in its field, to the point that after just three years, in 1976, the company moved to its current head office due to increased production and logistic needs.

In 2003, STIR inaugurated a highly automated plant and a modern research and control laboratory to support quality and innovation.

Continuous research drives more and more towards flawless product performance and towards the reduction of environmental impact.

In 2004, STIR expanded its range of products and added to the production activity, which was its historic mission, the marketing of special polymers for the plastics industry by acquiring R.G. CHEM.

In 2006, STIR decided to further expand its range of action through the distribution of polyolefins, to meet customer needs and satisfy every need.

Today

It is the holding of the corporate group made up of the companies STIR, STIR Compounds and R.G. CHEM and also holds an important role in coordination and management development. It combines organized, efficient, flexible and reliable customer service with a widespread and qualified network of sales agents and sellers.

It provides logistics services that cover the whole Italian territory and allows quick and punctual supplies, even those just in time.

A constant and qualitative selection and monitoring of our suppliers over time has led to a solid bond with Carmel Olefins Ltd, a company of Bazan Group, of which STIR is one of the leading official suppliers on the national territory. The network of strategic partnerships consolidated over the years has allowed it to constantly expand its range, which today includes the products of the leading petrochemical companies on a global level.

STIR has always been committed to the search for innovative products and reliable commercial partners and is constantly growing in its distribution capacity.

The company has always been attentive to health, safety and the environment, to encourage a development that improves the behaviour of companies on the market and allows a cultural change.

The third generation guarantees business continuity and an innovative vision of the future that keeps up with changes.

A hand is shown from the bottom right, palm up, holding a glowing, futuristic globe. The globe is composed of a grid of dots and is surrounded by several glowing white rings, suggesting a digital or technological theme. The quote "TOMORROW IS NOW" is written in large, bold, blue capital letters across the center of the globe.
